ABOUT R2R

The River To River® Festival (R2R) is Lower Manhattan's largest FREE summer arts festival featuring music, film, dance, theater, art and play elements in a variety of public venues that canvases the beautiful backdrop of Downtown New York – from Chambers Street down to Battery Park and across the island from the Hudson River to the East River.

In January 2011, Lower Manhattan Cultural Council (LMCC) announced that it took over as the lead partner of The River To River® Festival, assuming responsibility from the Alliance for Downtown New York for producing the annual free summer arts festival in Lower Manhattan.

The River To River® Festival was launched in 2002 by a coalition of organizations, led by founding title sponsor American Express. Along with presenting partners LMCC, Arts World Financial Center, Battery Park City Authority, The Seaport, the Alliance for Downtown New York, and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, the festival was conceived as a way to revitalize Lower Manhattan after 9/11. Over the past nine years it has become a cultural institution, drawing over 100,000 people each summer to venues in Lower Manhattan.

In celebration of its 10th season, The River To River® Festival presents a four-week program that is dedicated to artists and arts groups who are native New Yorkers or whose work has been greatly inspired by the Big Apple.
